The screenshot displays the WordPress dashboard interface. On the left is a dark sidebar menu with icons and labels for various dashboard sections: Dashboard, Posts, Media, Forms, Pages, Comments, Contact, Appearance, Plugins, Users, Tools, Settings (highlighted in blue), General, Writing, Reading, Discussion, Media, Permalinks, Chameleon (1.0), RSS Feed Widget (2.4), and a Collapse menu button at the bottom.

The main content area is titled "RSS Feed Widget (2.4) - Settings". It contains two sections:

- Instructions: A list of four steps: 1. Select image size which you want to use in your rss feeds. 2. Save Changes 3. That's it. 4. If you still have any query visit my website and contact me.
- Styles: A section showing two preview cards for the RSS feed widget. Each card features a header with the title "Hugo Barra joins Facebook to lead its VR efforts, including Oculus", a featured image of Hugo Barra and Mark Zuckerberg, and a text excerpt. The first card has a yellow header and a teal background, while the second has an orange header and a dark blue background. Below the previews is a row of five circular icons representing different styles, with the first one highlighted. A blue "Apply Style" button is located at the bottom right of the styles section.
